7 A.I. Stocks

By Sam Taube

On March 14, 2023, artificial intelligence laboratory OpenAI released GPT-4, its latest large language model, or LLM.

Despite being released less than four months after its predecessor, GPT-3.5, the new model is capable of much greater feats of intelligence. OpenAI claims GPT-4 scores in the top 10% on the Uniform Bar Examination and the top 12% on the Law School Admission Test. For comparison, GPT-3.5 scored in the bottom 10% and bottom 40%, respectively.

The potential economic impact of this kind of AI advancement is hard to put a number on. In a 2022 report, accounting and consulting firm PwC, also known as PricewaterhouseCoopers, estimated that AI could contribute $15.7 trillion to the global economy by 2030.
